

Marin M. Dragojevic

Executive Vice President, Chief Information Officer

Marin joined Cory in 2005 as an assistant delivery coordinator and rose through the operational ranks before becoming Cory's first Chief Information Officer. In 2010, he was promoted to the role of Executive Vice President responsible for coordinating the company's strategy along with his CIO duties.

Prior to joining Cory, Marin served in the U.S. Navy for 4 years and subsequently worked for Shenandoah County Emergency Services in Virginia.

Marin holds a degree in International Studies and Political Science from Old Dominion University and a Masters of Business Administration from the University of Miami. Marin and wife Vanessa currently live in Florida.